Over $8 Million Is Received In Taxes

With an almost grateful thud, Andover taxpayers plunked down over $8 million in the tax collector's office this past weekend, meeting the deadline to the tune of 98 per cent total collection of real estate taxes.

Tax Collector Myron Muise, noted that Andover was "very lucky," in view of current economic and employment conditions, that such a high percentage of total taxes due by Nov. 1 were paid on time.

The tax collector also noted that during the entire period from the time the tax bills were sent out to the final moment of the collection deadline at 8 p.m. Monday, not a single complaint accompanied the payment.

Aiding in the abatement of complaints, of course, was the fact that there was no increase in the tax rate in Andover this year.

Tax bills were mailed Aug. 23 and some of the money began coming in almost immediately, Muise reported.

But the big influx was over the weekend with huge chunks of cash in the form of checks coming from several banks.

The actual total of weekend receipts was unavailable late Monday as the collector's staff was busy posting the various accounts. The staff worked Saturday, Sunday and Monday until 8 p.m. on the real estate and personal property tax receipts.

Muise said that it would appear that there is less than $200,000 remaining outstanding which will become subject to interest.

The total real estate tax commitment for the town this year was $9,268,529.90. Personal property totalled $383,014.40.

The tax collector said that Andover's record was excellent in comparison with other communities, all faced with hardpressed-economic conditions.

Employment Program Is Funded

Andover has been funded by the federal government for positions under the federal Emergency Employment Act.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin said this week, that he had been notified by officials of the North Essex Employment Consortium that the town would be receiving the funds shortly.

The consortium is composed of 16 participating Essex County cities and towns.

Austin said that the selectmen have given him approval to adjust job classifications under provisions of the act in order to provide employment in areas of the municipal government.

The manager said that the selectmen's action provides the flexibility to adapt opportunities

Not Optimistic

Manager Taking View Of '72 Tax Picture

It's budget time at town hall and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin is currently examining the requests submitted by town department heads.

Not quite as optimistic as Finance Committee Chairman Dr. Albert J. Greenberg, who said his group is hopeful of once again holding the tax rate at its $46 level, the town manager notes that the increases in budgets and other factors lead to his pessimism.

The manager said that he would feel better about the 1972 municipal economic picture if he could determine what funds would be available from state sources.

The town has received about one-half million dollars from the state this year so far, and is still due about $1 million. The anticipated receipts were a governing factor in establishing the 1971 tax rate which was held at the same level as 1970.

His cursory examination of the departmental budgets and the money which must be appropriated

Central Administrative Offices For School Department Examined

The three estimates for centrally housing the schools' complete central administrative staff are "something over $90,000" for complete renovation, and office expansion, of Stowe, where the superintendent's staff and some of the directors now hang their hats, $280,000 for construction of a new facility, and $44,000 a year for rental of central administrative offices elsewhere in town.

Supervisor of General Services Jack Berberian, who procured the estimates, said that complete renovation would cost $90,000 plus the additional costs of carpeting and replacement of the old wooden sashes with aluminum windows, to cut down on winter drafts and heating bills. Berberian told a visibly unhappy school committee that these jobs would bring to approximately $115,000 the $90,000 estimate he gave them in September.

Dr. Frank Griggs at that time requested estimates on new construction of a central administrative facility and costs for renting equivalent office space elsewhere in the town, before a school committee decision.

Berberian quotes Architect

Archibald MacLaren's estimate for a new building at $280,000, or $35 a square foot for 8,000 square feet.

Rental of the same amount of space would cost an estimated $44,000, at $5.50 a square foot, including utilities. Berberian told the TOWNSMAN he could not separate costs of heating Stowe, since Stowe, the Doherty School, Jackson and the East Junior High, are all heated from the central

Community School Concept To Be Studied By Group

A study committee to explore the community school concept is expected to be appointed by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin with the approval of the selectmen Monday night.

The selectmen will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall, at which time the manager is expected to make his proposal and name the committee members.

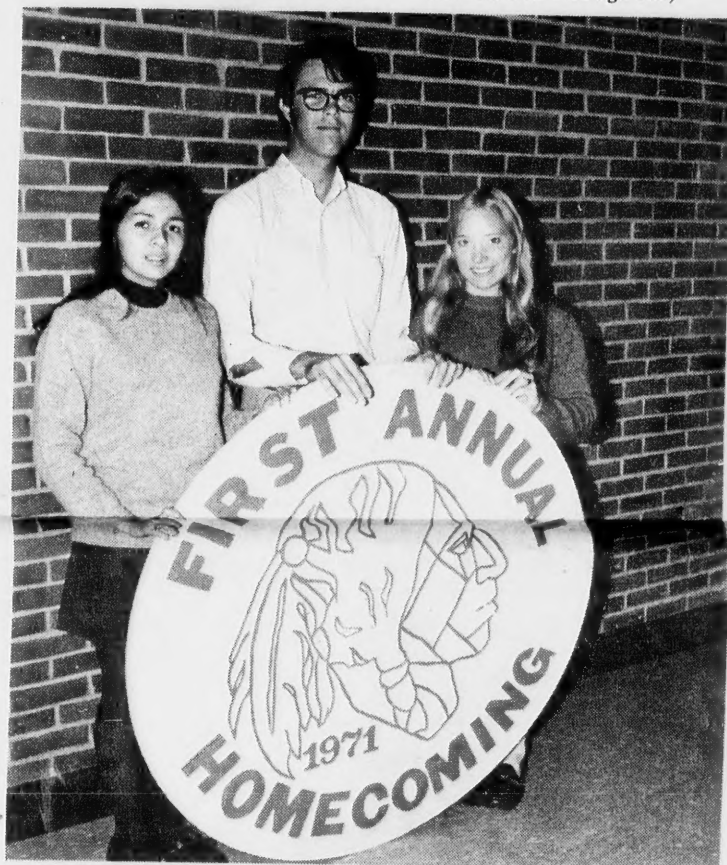

Austin plans the committee to study the feasibility of using the town's public school buildings as part of an overall recreational program for the town.

Purpose of the study will be to explore the community school concept and see if it is adaptable and acceptable to Andover.

The effort is to determine the structuring of the town's recreation program.

In anticipation of the study committee, the town manager, along with Richard Swift, athletic director of the public schools and Richard Barney, have been attending a seminar on the community

PREPARING. Senior class members at Andover High school have planned a homecoming this weekend, featuring a number of activities including the Andover vs Burlington football game Saturday afternoon. The idea was the work of Cheryl Keany and Kathy White, co-chairman of the planning committee and Steve Alexander, senior class president.

High School Homecoming

Andover High School will hold its First Annual Homecoming Weekend this Friday and Saturday, Nov. 5 and 6. Invitations have been extended to last year's graduating class and all the citizens of Andover.

The events start Friday afternoon when the Boy's Soccer team will battle the Girl's Field Hockey Team in a game of Field Hockey.

A Homecoming Rally will follow at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday The Golden Warrior football team will meet the Burlington Devils in one of the most exciting games of the season. That evening a dance will be held in the school gym featuring "The Truth."

This event is being sponsored by the senior class and it is hoped that all will attend to support their teams as history is made on the Golden Warrior field.

Students 'Preserve' Summer

This year's harvest brought an abundant supply of fresh fruits and vegetables. The ninth grade home economics classes at Andover West Junior High School were very much aware of this fact. When school opened they launched into a month's study of the different methods of food preparation.

The various classes first did some canning of tomatoes and peaches which were then stored for use in future classes. They next studied the method of freezing, followed by pickling, and, lastly, jellymaking.

As the students moved into their next unit of work which included baking, they were able to make use of some of the jelly which they had made in a previous lesson. Other classes also profited from these lessons, as did the school's food budget.

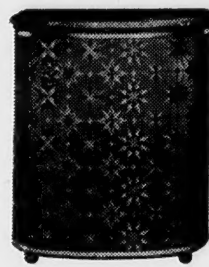

When you cook, make sure all pot handles are turned inward. A handle hanging over the edge is an irresistible magnet for little fingers if they can reach it.

Disposal Of Trash Can Be Profitable

Making trash disposal pay its own way is possible, the League of Women Voters environmental quality committee learned last week.

Arthur Slater from Raytheon Systems Division, Bedford, explained a project using Bureau of Mines technology and equipment which will recycle residue from municipal incinerators. Iron, glass, aluminum, copper and zinc can be reclaimed and sold as raw materials to manufacturers. The particular project Raytheon is designing will need 300 tons of residue per day (three municipal incinerators the size of the Lowell incinerator). $20 per ton per day can be realized for the reclaimed materials.

An additional important product from municipal incinerators can be heat energy. Many experimental projects are under way designing incinerators to make this possible. Heat energy is always in demand by power plants. Trash as fuel is also possible. Mr. Slater told the group that all the technology needed is already available.

A landfill site will still be needed because there is still inert material left to be disposed of after incineration and recycling. A landfill will last much longer under these conditions and as the material deposited is completely inert there is no chance of pollution at the site, either of the water, air or visual pollution.

Business Week, for Sept. 25, 1971, describes a similar system also based on Bureau of Mines technology and equipment already planned for Stamford, Conn. When it begins operation in 1973, Stamford expects to receive $300,000 per year for the recycled products, glass and aluminum, sold to local dealers. The six story recycling plant will have an operating cost of $100,000 netting the city a profit of $200,000 on this phase of their waste disposal.

The Addison Gallery of American Art has lent two works of art to Joslyn Art Museum, Omaha, for Joslyn's major 40th anniversary exhibition, "The Thirties Decade: American Artists and Their European Contemporaries."

The exhibition, on view now through Nov. 28, consists of almost 300 American and European paintings, sculpture and graphics.

Varsity Status Denied

Ski racing enthusiasts lost their bid to make ski racing a high school varsity sport Tuesday night. At issue were dollars and priorities.

A united front of educators and school committee praised the energy and achievements of the racer's members and supporters, but told them the Andover schools could not afford to take it on as another varsity sport, when the basic physical education needs of the majority of students are not yet being met.

For example, new Physical Education Director Richard Swift pointed out, there is not yet an adaptive physical education instruction program for 400 Andover school children who have tested as not meeting the physical fitness model for the age, (this model was designed, and the testing carried out, in Donald D. Dunn's outgoing year as physical education director.)

Tuesday's meeting signaled the commitment of the committee, the superintendent and the new physical education director to a thorough review of the schools' programs with an eye to spreading the physical education dollar more widely among the more than 6,000 students, instead of concentrating the personnel and dollars so heavily on the high school students, and the "already physically gifted" among them.

Phys Ed Director Swift said that of the schools' 98 physical education personnel positions, fully 59 were concentrated on interscholastics, which involve older students only, and only nine of these were for girls' programs. There are only 21 regular physical education instructors, and seven of these have to cover the entire elementary system, which explains the lack of intramurals at that level. There are 18 intramural instructors throughout the system.

Ski racing advisor Joseph Sweeney argued eloquently, for varsity status, as did Buddy Werner League head James Eaton, saying Swift's estimates of the cost of ski fees and transportation were high, and volunteer help could be counted on in many areas. Committeeman Dr. Richard Katz replied that once the school takes the operation on as a varsity sport, it must shoulder costs.

"Our plans and budget must be established by priority. To you, the ski team is top priority. But for the town as a whole, a higher priority probably is that each of the children who are below par in physical fitness get attention. We cannot bend our priorities for every group. But no one is asking you to stop skiing. We're all for it."

Swift wants varsity teams to grow out of the instructional programs, and looks to spread the intramural program lower, a move praised by Frank Hill, who pressed Swift for an early review of the phys ed budget. Committeeman Dr. Griggs questioned whether private groups such as Pee Wee football, hockey and Little League do not take care of the same needs as intramural would at the elementary level.

A quick "No!" was Swift's reply. "In these groups, the emphasis is on winning. In intramurals, the emphasis is on instruction, learning, playing for fun... Intramurals can pick up some of the kids who go home and sit in front of TV." Parent involvement must spread to this area, too, Swift urged.

So the disappointed ski racers and most of their 50-odd adult supporters left the meeting, in spite of Chairman William King's plea that they remain for the discussion of the secondary school results of the Stanford Achievement tests, which followed immediately.

Everyone seemed to agree with one point the skiers had brought up, the importance of sports which people can continue to play throughout most of their lives - skiing, tennis, swimming, golf, etc. James Eaton pointed out that a few years ago there were no town tennis courts, yet today the courts between the high school and West Junior High are in constant use.

U.N. Week
Observed
At Sanborn

The sixth grade students at Henry C. Sanborn School climaxed a unit on United Nations Week with the annual Sanborn International Buffet held Friday in the School cafeteria.

Activities during the week were varied and all students were involved in one or more of them.

Several students made a study of co-existence through role playing using conflict situations in which a student was asked to arbitrate. These situations were televised and shown on Friday preceding the luncheon. This was introduced by Peter Scheinfien.

Some students made collages expressing "What I Fear." Similarities and differences of fears of classmates, other students in the United States, as well as other countries, were noted. The collages were displayed in the school corridors.

Research papers on the history of the United Nations were written by many students.

Miss Sara Luce, art specialist, directed the art work for the week.

Parents were invited to the luncheon and program. The food, representative of countries from around the world, was made by students and their parents. Dean Russell served as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Saul Firnbach served as parent chairman for the luncheon. She was assisted by Mrs. Thomas Comparato, Mrs. John Heislein, Mrs. Norman Martin, Mrs. James Beattie and Mrs. Carlton Russell.

Sixth grade teachers are Miss Dorothy Gaffney, Miss Mary Paulino and George Walsh.

To Discuss
TV Effects On Children

Rev. Francis Paolo, O.F.M., will speak on "The Effects of Adult TV on Child Audiences" at the Christian Formation Center on Sunday evening, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m.

According to Father Paolo, the proximate and remote effects of TV viewing in child development and behavior should be considered seriously by parents and educators. This study could provide an important insight into the patterns of developmental behavior of children.

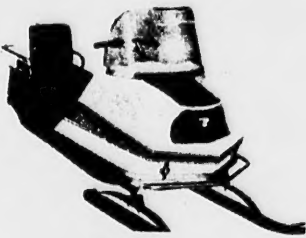

Father Francis Paolo is presently the Executive Director of the Christian Formation Center in Andover. He received his M.A. degree from Boston College and did graduate work at Harvard University and St. Rose College, Albany, N.Y. He is currently a candidate for a master's degree in Communications Media at Suffolk University and Emerson College.

Tickets may be purchased at the Center on Sunday evening. For further information call the Christian Formation Center.

To Explain
Solid Waste

Professor David Wilson from the mechanical engineering department of M.I.T. will speak to the environmental quality committee of the League of Women Voters tonight at 8 at Cooley House, Phillips Andover Academy.

Mr. Wilson will speak on methods of sorting out types of solid waste prior to and following incineration.

ANYONE FOR CHESS. Fred Wissenbach, new instructor in industrial arts at Andover High school, checks on the making of metallic chessman by Francis J. Caffrey. Wissenbach is instructing in the game of chess with the use of magnetic chess board.

Chess Interest Aroused

The International Chess Match now in progress in Russia between the American champion, Bobby Fischer and the famous Russian player, Petrosian has generated renewed interest in the game of chess.

An opportunity will soon be given to all students of Andover High School to learn, in a painless way, the basically very simple rules and moves of this game.

Fred Wissenbach, new instructor in the Metal Technology section will soon give a series of lectures on the basics of chess using a special magnetic board to illustrate the moves in an easy to understand manner.

Mr. Wissenbach, who has come to Metal Technology from private industry, is well versed in the game. He has in the past held membership in the Cambridge, Worcester and Quincy Chess clubs and was among the top players in each club.

Mr. Wissenbach has constructed (in Metal Technology, of course) a special board equipped with magnetic chessmen which can be placed in a vertical position so that the moves can be seen by and explained to a large number of persons at the same time.

Mark Murabito and Mark Reilly are also busily engaged in the metal shop turning pieces of aluminum, brass and plastics into chessmen on the shop lathes.

Some diamonds are harder than others. The hardest diamond known to history is a 5 3/4 carat gem owned by a diamond cutter in Kimberley, South Africa. The stone has defied all attempts to cut it and still weighs the original 5 3/4 carats, in spite of three years' treatment on the diamond cutter's wheel. It even turned the tables and bit into the cutting plate. The owner has given up all hope of ever taming the jewel, and keeps it as an expensive curiosity!

Andover Students In Lead Roles

The Phillips Academy Dramatic Society will present Jean Girardoux's fantastic comedy, "The Madwoman of Chaillot" as its annual fall production, Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 5 and 6, in George Washington Hall. Admission is free, no tickets required.

Five local students have major roles in the production: Amanda Royce plays the lead, Aurelia, the Madwoman of Chaillot. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Royce, of Phillips Academy, and a student at Pingree School.

Elizabeth Spader plays Josephine, the Madwoman of La Concorde. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard G. Spader of North Andover. Her sister Anne, plays a Flower Girl. Both are students at Abbot Academy.

Robert Roulston plays one of the villains, the Prospector. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Roulston of Partlet St.

David Briggs plays Dr. Jadin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Briggs of Methuen.

Hart Day Leavitt of the Phillips Academy faculty is the director, assisted by Frank Pellizia, and a large group of students from both Abbot and Phillips.

boiler behind Jackson.

Two new possibilities arose at Tuesday night's school committee meeting, and will be investigated before any decision is made.

Berberian brought out a brochure from a modular construction firm quoting cost as $19 a square foot, and Dr. Griggs suggested the possibility of a build-lease agreement such as the post office enters into. In this arrangement, a contractor would be sought to build a facility suitable for the schools' central administration, which the school system would lease on a long-term contract, instead of buy. State regulations would have to be checked for the legality of such an arrangement, as well as investigation of the economic feasibility of both suggestions.

The school administration's stated aim is to house the central administrative offices, including program directors, in one building, for more efficient administrative planning and coordination of the educational program.

The guidance director and library director moved into spartan quarters upstairs at Stowe early this fall, and the superintendent is anxious to bring the music and phys. ed. directors into the fold.

Most of the renovation costs would involve making separate offices out of the large school rooms upstairs, to house the administrators.

Still unspent in the $18,000 authorized for repairs last year. The administration held back on these repairs, which Berberian calls relatively minor ones, until it was decided whether Stowe would be a more or less permanent home for the central administration.

Stowe now houses most, but not all of the central administration. Partial remodeling has converted the downstairs of the old school-house into offices for Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert, Assistant Superintendent Vaughn I. Clapp and Supervisor of General Services Jack Berberian. Partitioned cubicles mutually insulate the various clerical staffs from sounds and distraction.

The upstairs is still essentially as it was when it served Andover's elementary schoolers and, more recently, the sixth grades of Central, now Doherty School.

Guidance Director William Igoe, Health Coordinator Anita Charpentier, Math Coordinator Philip Dyer and Teacher - administrator Dorothy Partridge share one high-ceilinged back schoolroom with lack of such administrative amenities as equipment, privacy, names on the door or rugs on the floor. The spartan set-up shares a coffee-maker and evident good cheer.

A similar room next door houses the library processing unit, which catalogues and cross references new books and all audio-visual software for the entire elementary system, so that books, records, tapes, film loops, etc., in any one school library are in every school's catalogue file, and available in each for borrowing.

Administration officials reportedly are eyeing this space for offices for administrators not yet in Stowe. - Music Director Ed Grigoli and Phys. Ed. Director Richard Swift. Their offices are at the high school, but the administration wants to bring together under one roof the officials responsible for programs throughout the school system. Other possible tenants upstairs are Reading Supervisor Mrs. Theresa Murphy and Mrs. Pamela Kvilekval, supervisor of the Perceptual Learning Difficulties. However, these supervisors are now located in Jackson School, only a quick walk away and may stay there, where Mrs. Murphy's reading staff is producing the new individualized reading program.

Back to Stowe, across the hall upstairs are two small offices and a large conference room, which may be divided into two conference rooms for the use of the upstairs administrators. The small offices are used by Robert McClory, head custodian, the senior inhabitant of the second floor, and Library Director Annetta Friedman and her secretary, who nightly cover a large filing cabinet with plastic to protect it from water -- the roof and ceiling leak. (Berberian said the firm that fixed the roof is coming back to try again).

Library Director Friedman, who moved to Stowe only this fall along with Guidance Director Igoe, is undaunted by the water, and told the TOWNSMAN that she felt a director can give better service to all schools, when not located in one of the schools. She said that in her case, moving the library processing group out of the upper rooms over the library, and moving her own office to Stowe also meant freeing space that the high school library had needed all along.

For the first time, the high school librarians now have an office, and the upstairs production rooms overlooking the library are now being used for production of slides, films, and tapes by students and teachers.

Consideration of Stowe School also implies looking at the Jackson School. Here the reading department uses two rooms and the hall for reading program production and Mrs. Murphy's office. The Perceptual Learning Difficulties program, which supervises the PERC tutors throughout the system, occupies another room, while Doherty Science Teacher Mrs. Rita Dubrule runs a lively science program for Doherty's upper elementary students in a room hung with wasp's nests, nature displays and centered on experimental setups.

If the library processing group is moved out of Stowe to make room for the rest of the central administration, it has to go somewhere. Where? Unanswered questions are whether the reading department will need less room at Jackson, once the individualized reading program is in operation, and how much of Jackson should be available to the Doherty School, which would like to expand programs such as the current science program. Here a science teacher can offer students what she cannot bring to their own classrooms: more individualized instruction with a chance for independent science projects using real laboratory equipment.

Manager

for the coming year due to built-in increases, leads the manager to state, "I am not optimistic at this point on holding the line in 1972."

"There are many factors to consider in establishing a tax rate, such as principal and interest payments on bonds, estimated receipts, and increased valuations."

The effect of the new water rate schedule will also be a determining factor to a certain degree, he said.

As for the principal and interest account, there is substantial growth reflected in this almost annually, as the town continues to pay off its capital expenditures contracted over the past few years in new school, municipal building and utility construction.

The income from the new water rate schedule is expected to cover 70 per cent of the annual cost of maintenance of the water treatment plant when it is in operation, as well as the retirement of the bonds purchased for the building of the new facility.

The town manager reports that with two billing periods completed under the new rate schedule, revenue for the water department is running about 80 per cent higher than a year ago.

This approaches the goal established in the setting of the new rates, he said.

There could be some relief in this area for tax rate setting procedures, but not much since the bulk of the revenue will be applied to aiding the bonding account.

Prime consideration in 1972 thinking is the new valuation which can be expected by the town.

This year, Andover had a mushrooming valuation based on new industrial growth, with the Raytheon plant in West Andover appearing on the tax roles for the first time as a completed building.

There has been no major new industrial growth during the current year, thus any new valuation in 1972 will be based on new residence starts.

Another tax rate factor is the receipts from motor vehicle excise taxes, which can be estimated fairly well. The town manager noted that the 1971 estimates are pretty close, thus the town should be in good shape in this area.

The major factor in any consideration, of course, is the school department budget, the manager noted. There is no estimate at present on what the 1972 public education costs might be, and it is expected that this will take some time to develop.

The manager will be busy this month examining all budget requests and preparing the estimates for 1972 which are due to be presented to the selectmen and finance committee by Dec. 1 according to the town manager charter.

Employment

within the needs of the town.

Andover has applied for funding of ten positions, two of them to be in the school department.

Austin has appointed an assistant manager under the provisions of the act, but has been having difficulty in filling the post of professional planning aide and clerk-accountant for the public works department garage, under stipulations of the emergency employment act.

Still under consideration are the possibilities of seeking a fire fighter and possibly a person to be in charge of seeking federal and state funding for local projects.

A SHORT STORY

A real estate owner who sells his property is a grantor. The real estate agent who sells it for him is a Realtor. The buyer of the real estate is the grantee when the owner delivers the warranty deed to him.

The owner's deed is placed in escrow, to be held by the title company. The buyer puts the earnest money or down payment in escrow also.

The bank who makes the loan to the buyer is the mortgagee. It places a mortgage on the real estate for security. This is registered at the county courthouse. The buyer becomes the mortgagor.

The new owner leases the property to a tenant for rent. The tenant is the lessee. The new owner becomes the lessor. If this property is sold again the new buyer is the vendee. The seller is the vendor. The agent selling it for him is again a Realtor.

Soccer Team Eliminated

By Brian J. Sullivan

On a wet and muddy field in South Framingham, the Andover High School Golden Warrior Soccer team lost to third-ranked Lincoln-Sudbury in the first round of the Massachusetts State Schoolboy Soccer Tournament. Early in the game the Andover Warriors, as opposed to the Lincoln-Sudbury Warriors, dominated play, but after the first 5 or 7 minutes, Lincoln-Sudbury took over for the next 2-1/4 periods. Again in the fourth, sparked by a Paul Hoffman goal, Andover took the initiative and at the final horn was in control of the ball.

A late fourth quarter goal spelled doom for Andover, but in the first quarter they looked as good as they have at any time in the season. The passing was crisp and accurate, the position was good and, for the initial five minutes, managed a 3 to 1 shots-on-goal ratio. However, Alan Ey and Bill Janes soon got Lincoln-Sudbury on the track and it wasn't until mid-way into the fourth that Andover got going again.

It was practically a scoreless first half. Lincoln-Sudbury went ahead on cornerkicks (the corner-kicks determine the winner in a Tourney game that is tie) in the first quarter and two more early in the second, before they finally beat Andover goalie Carl Nilson. Mike Reece gained control at mid-field of one of Ey's clearing kicks. He promptly turned upfield and raced the Andover defense to their own goal. Upon reaching the top of the penalty area, he fired a cross-pass over to left-outside Ron Hardy. Ron had a wide-open goal to shoot into and he made sure of the goal by firing a low shot into the goal. That's how the half ended and Andover was now being out-shot 8 to 5.

The third quarter was scoreless. Carl Nilson made some fantastic saves in the quarter and in each of the two preceding periods as well. It was Nilson, Scott Smith and Konrad Marchaj who kept the Andover team in the game. Coach Lee of Andover, for the first time this season, employed a 4-3-3 line-up and it seemed to work very well among the backs, but the forwards didn't seem to know how to manage the new team tactic. The idea itself is a commonly used technique and employs the use of three fullbacks (instead of two), the regular three halfbacks and four forwards instead of the customary five; hence the term 4-3-3. It is generally accepted to be a defensive tactic to employ the 4-3-3 but it definitely has offensive potential and Lincoln-Sudbury used that potential very effectively.

Midway through the last period, Paul Hoffman connected from the left side of the Lincoln-Sudbury goal and Andover once again took command. But with just three minutes remaining, Lincoln-Sudbury received a penalty shot.

Nilson had been drawn out of the goal and Chuck Swan had tucked the ball around him. Fullback Bill White, seeing the ball headed for the empty goal pounced on the little troublemaker and wrapped his arms around it. Needless to say the Referee had to call an "illegal use of the hands" in the penalty area. The punishment for this offense is a penalty-kick awarded to the opposing team. Chuck Swan took the kick and was not to be denied this time as he fired a perfect shot into the right-hand corner to capture the first-round victory for Lincoln-Sudbury.

Lincoln-Sudbury was the most powerful opponent our Warriors faced all season. They mustered as many shots in one game as Nilson saw in the first five games of the second half put together. Still the Warriors, out-ranked State-wide 3rd to 15th, put up a very fine show. Carl Nilson, Scott Smith and Konrad Marchaj all starred, especially brightly in their last game as Andover High Warriors. Congratulations on a fine season and league championship!

Tourney Berth Gained By Tie

By virtue of a tie with Lynn English the Andover High School Soccer team was assured of a berth in the Massachusetts State School-boy Soccer Tournament. Also, by virtue of the same tie, Lynn English, the second team in the standings under Andover, became certain of a tourney spot. It is unlikely that the two teams will pair off in the first round, however.

The game was probably the best played this season, by either team. Good, strong, aggressive play displayed by the two foes prevailed from beginning to end. The big story in the game was the English defense. The Andover offense was especially strong, battering 16 shots at the English goal. Time after time, Campatelli, the Lynn goalkeeper, foiled Warrior attempts to score. The Warriors came close several times, but when Campatelli wasn't there, their fullbacks or a goalpost was.

Scott Smith and Scott Stevenson led the Warriors with shots on goal with four apiece. Paul Hoffman, with three, was robbed on two other occasions by the post. The visitors only managed five shots against Warrior goalie, Carl Nilson.

The referees called a very close game. Between the two officials, they called 32 fouls; 17 against the Warriors, and 15 against English. But try as they might, the Warriors could not dent the English defense and at the end of four quarters of fast action, the score was 0-0 tie.

The Swisher brothers, goalie Tim and forward Bob, along with the powerful foot of Richard Lipski (and the scoring of Ralph Decker helped) dealt the Andover Warriors their second loss of the season. This made the three-year regular Soccer season record 34-5-3.

The Andover boys just couldn't get together on the field. The passing was erratic and the shooting was terrible in the first half. The second half was better although not by much. Right down to the smallest detail, the Warriors just were not playing well.

Early in the first period, Wilmington moved ahead. A cross-pass to Swisher from Frank Simmons accounted for goal number one. Swisher got the pass in the top of the crease and fired the ball on the ground. Carl Nilson, the Warrior goalie, thinking the ball would go out-of-bounds, let it roll, but it rolled in for the score. Wilmington outthrust Andover for the rest of the period and the half adding one more goal, on a corner-kick early in the second. Lipski booted the ball from the corner and Ralph Decker headed it past Goalie Nilson to up the score 2-0.

The second half was much the same. Andover evened up the play and outshot Wilmington 8-3, but one of those three shots was another goal by Decker. It came at 8:10 on the third.

Decker took a pass from Bob Swisher at the top of the penalty area. Quickly he was covered by two Andover men. Just as quickly he fired a shot into the far lower corner to the left of Nilson. The shot just moved inside the post but still counted as the final goal. Nilson was replaced by Bob Haugh who looked good for the remaining period and half, but the Warriors still couldn't click despite a late fourth quarter surge. The clock ticked out with Wilmington in the lead 3-0 when the final whistle blew the end of the regular season for Wilmington and the Andover Warriors.

Warriors Edge Billerica

By Brian J. Sullivan

The Andover High School Golden Warriors journeyed to Billerica on Saturday and defeated the hosts 19-12 in a Merrimack Valley Conference football game.

The bright light in the game was the Warrior offense. Led, as usual by Jason Day, Arthur DeMoulas and Phil Iannazzi, the three Andover backs, they held the ball a bit less than three-fourths of the game.

The Indians received fine performances from quarterback Kevin Gearin, left half-back David Morey and right half-back Richard Nestor. The latter two led Billerica in rushing.

Billerica kicked off to Andover to begin the game. Neither team was able to get untracked. The period went by slowly for the fans. An exchange of punts gave the Indians the ball on their own 40-yard line. Andover held Billerica on downs. The ensuing punt left Andover on their own 33. Two plays later they fumbled and David Zimmerman recovered for Billerica. Vin Bruno corrected the situation by very alertly falling on an Indian fumble on the next play.

Andover's Phil Iannazzi rocketed through the line on the first play from scrimmage and went 42 yards for the score. Scott Seero converted the extra point attempt to stake Andover to a 7-0 lead. The Warriors were never behind.

Andover's initial surge in the second quarter provided the rest of the points needed for victory. A roughing-the-kicker penalty gave them the ball on the 45-yard line. Arthur DeMoulas, who played one of his best games of the season, rushed for 20 yards and also scored the touchdown in the 55-yard drive. The last run was for 7 yards and the score. Scott Seero's extra-point kick went wide, leaving the score 13-0.

Late in the quarter, Gearin, Tom Turco, and Dale Sarno combined to put Billerica on the board. On third and long yardage, Gearin went to Turco on the Andover 45. On the next play, Gearin threw to Turco again. As he was being tackled Sarno came rushing up the sideline, caught a backward lateral from Turco and raced the remaining 30 yards for the score. Steve Alexander blocked the kick and the quarter ended 13-6, Andover.

Billerica scored to begin the half. David Morey carried on all five plays also scoring on an off-tackle run of 12-yards. The two-point conversion pass was incomplete but Billerica was only a point behind, 13-12. An exchange of kicks ended the quarter.

Once again punts changed the position of the ball and Andover held Billerica on the 50-yard line (Continued on Page Nine)

WINE COOKERY - OPINIONS VARY

There is an endless variety of opinions among cooks on which wines to use when cooking various dishes. Since wine-seasoning is a matter of taste -- everyone is correct.

Some say there is no need to use expensive wines for cooking purposes, but most cooks who flavor with wines insist that if a wine is not good enough for drinking, it is not good enough for cooking. And there's no such thing as the so-called "cooking Sherry" they'll tell you. It's a relic of prohibition days and used to be salted so that it could not be consumed as wine. But prohibition is over and so is "cooking Sherry."

California cooks insist that we should accompany a wine-flavored dish with more of the wine used in preparing it. French cooks disagree. So do as you wish. Serve the same wine or another. You have good authority both ways.

You are invited to send in any questions on the subject of wine or spirits and I'll be happy to answer them personally or in print. Our way of saying "Thank you" is by always offering you the finest quality of wines and spirits and the very best values and service at DEN ROCK LIQUOR MART, No. Andover Mall (Route 114). Chamber Plans Seminar To Examine GL Region

The Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce is lending its assistance to recent intercommunity togetherness proposals, but not bent on merger, more toward consolidation of municipal services.

Following suggestions made during the past two weeks concerning first a proposal to merge Andover and North Andover, succeeded by a suggestion that the four communities of Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and Methuen join into one municipality, the Chamber suggested a seminar on the subject.

William F. Lucey, president of the chamber, said the organization was interested in sponsoring a seminar with the assistance of Merrimack College to determine whether regionalization of services for the four communities would be beneficial.

James E. Ellis, executive director of the chamber, said this week that the organization was proceeding with plans to provide such a seminar, and is in the process of structuring a planning committee.

Ellis emphasized that the chamber was providing the vehicle for a study of consolidation of services. The merger of the communities is not a prime consideration at this time, Ellis said.

The chamber executive pointed out that the merger possibilities seem rather remote at the moment and the chamber's interest lies in determining the benefits of a regional approach to such things as fire, police protection, water and sewer systems which might better be provided on a regional, co-operative plan among the participating communities.

The merger proposal was made initially by Chairman Robert A. Waters of the Andover selectmen who suggested that Andover and North Andover, which once were one community, reunite as a single municipal entity.

Selectman Wilbur A. Hyatt of Methuen followed this up with a proposal to merge the four Greater Lawrence communities into one.

Rev. John R. Aherne, O.S.A., president of Merrimack College said the school was interested in providing assistance in a study of increased co-operation between the communities, noting that consolidation is a logical and reasonable way to solving many common problems.

It is expected that the planning committee will be announced soon by the chamber officials.

Phillips. Abbot In Concert

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall concludes its 1971 season presenting again the annual Abbot-Phillips Academies' concert on Sunday, Nov. 14 at 4 p.m.

The 1971 edition is a concert of sacred music celebrating the theme "We praise Thee O God" interpreted in the Contemporary, Renaissance, Romantic, Medieval, and High Baroque periods.

Participating are (1) The Fidelio Society of Abbot Academy, Christine R. Johnston, director; (2) The Phillips Academy Chorus, William Schneider, director; (3) The Abbot-Phillips Chamber Orchestra, Peter Fernberger, solo trumpet; (4) The Abbot-Phillips A Cappella Choir; (5) The Abbot Academy A Cappella Chorus; (6) Lorene Fanta, organist of Phillips Academy.

The program includes: Festival Te Deum - Benjamin Britten, with the combined chorus; Versets on the Te Deum - Anonymous (c1520) by Lorene Fanta, organist; Plainchant - 13th Century, chorus and handbells; Te Deum - Marc-Antoine Charpentier (1634-1704) with the combined chorus, organ and orchestra.

A collection will be taken.

Rosenblith To Address B'nai B'rith

Murray Rosenblith, outspoken editor of the P.U. News at Boston University and a professed Jewish radical, will be the featured speaker at the Sunday, Nov. 7 meeting of the Joseph B. Koffman Lodge of the B'nai B'rith. The meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. at the Jewish Community Center on Haverhill Street in Lawrence.

The program is the first in a series sponsored by the lodge to join in dialogue citizens of the Greater Lawrence community with public speakers having unique and often controversial backgrounds in subjects of current social relevance.

Mr. Rosenblith, a journalism major at F.U.'s School of Public Communications, is one of the founders of the Radical Jewish movement in Boston. He is also a National Convention Board Member of United Synagogue Youth. Joining Mr. Rosenblith will be Ann Schwartz, a senior majoring in psychology at B.U.'s College of Liberal Arts and an active spokeswoman of women's lib. Speaking for himself and Miss Schwartz, Rosenblith stated, "There are many Jewish radicals, but few identify with Judaism as we do."

The B'nai B'rith discussion program will focus on the meaning of radical Jewishness and how a radical Jew identifies with his religion.

Schools To Tour Museum

Several school group tours through the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum are scheduled for this fall, according to an announcement from the Museum. Gloucester High School and the Pentucket Regional Junior High School are scheduled for visits in early November and recent visitors to the Museum were Simmons College, Arlington High School, Mt. Ida Junior College and Girl Scout Troop 109 from Haverhill.

Group visits to the Museum can be arranged by calling 686-0191. The galleries are open seven afternoons each week. Morning or evening visits can be scheduled by appointment. Demonstrations of spinning and weaving are available during the visits. They are paid for through a small admission fee.

The Textile Museum's major exhibit on wool manufacturing is unique and the collection of antique textile machinery is said to be unequalled anywhere in the world.

afternoon with a 27-0 victory over Deerfield at Prothers field.

Quarterback Scott Gillogly was the offensive leader in making the academy the top gridiron club among New England prep schools.

Gillogly scored the opening touchdown on a run, passed 14 yards to Rick Hall and 34 yards to Tom Fleming for additional scoring and Bruce Bruckmann capped the scoring with a six yard dash into the end zone.

Defensively, Phillips also sparkled, limiting the visitors to less than 130 yards total offense and intercepting three passes.

Junior Grid League Concludes

By Rick Harrison

Willie Wright was exceptional.

The Browns also had their share of good performers. Bill Becotte chewed up big chunks of Playstead turf as a running back, while Bob Peterson also sparkled on offense.

Brent Williams and Chuck Becotte were the defensive stalwarts.

Chargers 21, Vikes 6 -- Coach Lou Mirisola's Chargers tallied single touchdowns in the first, third and fourth periods to subdue the first-year Vikings.

Halfback Bob Hoelzel started the point parade with a 10-yard end sweep to TD territory late in the opening quarter. Phil Bruno rushed the extra point for a 7-0 West Andover edge.

Halfback Brian White raced 40 yards on a counter play to rack up the second Charger TD after a scoreless second stanza.

This time Greg Nicastro rushed the point for a 14-0 spread.

Mike Henderson capped a sustained Charger drive midway through the final quarter, plunging over from two yards out for his third TD of the year.

Ricky Collins, son of Andover High grid Coach Dick Collins, rushed the conversion to boost the victors' lead to 21-0.

The Vikings, who never gave up while battling through a rough first season, struck back late in the game.

Quarterback Keith Eosefow was the culprit, as he churned 30 yards on the right end sweep. The conversion attempt fell short, keeping the score at 21-6.

Jaimie Meyers once again made an excellent two-way contribution to the Vikings' attack. Middle guard Billy McGuire was a defensive bulwark in the Chargers' line.

The Chargers thus concluded the season with a 34-32 scoring edge on the opposition.

Unfortunately, details on the Colts' triumph over the Dolphins was unavailable at TOWNSMAN presstime. However, Coach Ed Seero's Colts were able to end the year with a 53-34 point advantage on the enemy.

In last week's Dolphins-Chargers game, won 13-6 by the Dolphins, the TD scorers were Dave DeLucia and Mike Cullinan.

DeLucia was on the receiving end of a 70-yard pass-and-run touchdown aerial from Bob Anderson, while Cullinan broke a 6-6 tie in the fourth quarter with a 23-yard scoring run. Mike also rushed the conversion.

Charlie Redman played well both ways for the Dolphins, while line-backer Paul Keefe and Tom Kenney were other standouts.

Following is a complete roster list of the 1971 champion Patriots:

Dan Ackroyd, Bill Anderson, Mel Perger, Dave Bradner, Brian Bresnahan, Gary Butler, Bob Campbell, Jim Cataldo, Russ Cushing, Mark Davey, Chris Donnelly, Steve Dubois, Tim Dubois, Bill Emmert.

Also, Brian Feeney, Greg Gardner, Ken Gibson, Scott Hammar, Keith McIntyre, Ricky Meuse, Tim Shea, Jeff Silva, John Catalano, Kevin Sirois, Kirk Skinner, Jerry Stabile, Billy Walsh, John Walsh, Phil Weeks and Willie Wright.

Banquet -- The annual league banquet is slated to be held on Tuesday night, Nov. 16, at the Greater Lawrence Vocational School in West Andover.

The dinner and awards program is listed to get underway at 6:30 p.m., with AHS Coach Dick Collins as the featured speaker.

Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of two special league trophies named after outstanding Andover sports personalities.

The annual "Gus Connolly Award" will go to the boy who week after week displayed the best all-around sportsmanship, attributes of team play and gentlemanly conduct. The recipient of the trophy need not be a "star player."

The annual "Walter 'Stretch' Pearson Award" is given to a boy exhibiting the same characteristics mentioned above. However, the Pearson trophy is strictly a lineman's award.

Voting for the awards is done by the AJFL Board of Directors.

All 180 boys involved in the successful program will also be given a league patch symbolic of their participation. League President Ed LaFleur and First Vice-President Leo Keefe are running the banquet.

Other league officers are Second Vice - President Jack Hammar, Secretary Richard Asoian, Treasurer Frank Rindone and Advisor Dick Collins.

This week's summaries:

Pats 19 6 12 - 37
Browns 0 0 0 - 0
TDs - Jerry Stabile (3), Dave Bradner, Scott Hammar, Jim Cataldo.
Chargers 7 0 7 7 - 21

CAR TALK

THOSE DROPOFF BLUES

You're zipping down the highway and swing into a left turn at high speed. The car skids sideways and your right wheels drop off the pavement onto the soft shoulder. What do you do?

First of all, resist the normal impulse to panic and jam on the brakes. This could be fatal. The difference in wheel traction would cause the car to swerve to the left into the path of oncoming vehicles. Though head-on collisions always end in a tie . . . you both lose.

Grip the wheel firmly, keeping the car on a straight course, take your foot off the gas pedal and allow the car to slow down.

Check for a clear opening in the traffic and steer slowly back onto the pavement at a SHARP ANGLE. Good luck!

Don't let anybody kid you! Your car - not your dog - is your best friend. And you can depend on us to give it the care it deserves. All service and workmanship guaranteed. Merchants Post Prices

The Office of Emergency Preparedness has announced that merchants must have a list of ceiling prices available for public inspection. The list from which the seller is required to provide information must be available at the place of sale.

The director of the federal office has ruled that a ceiling price list may be a master list for the entire establishment or separate lists for various departments.

Ceiling price information and ceiling price information request forms must be made available for the consumer.

The regulations are in keeping with the current wage - price freeze.

Merchants who are members of the Andover Chamber of Commerce may obtain such lists at the Andover Gift House, Dana's Sport Shop and Sutherland's.

The Environmental Quality Committee of the League of Women Voters will present a series of unit meetings next week.

The meetings will be held on Monday, Nov. 15, at noon, at the home of Mrs. Edward Tober, 151 Hidden Road; on Tuesday, Nov. 16 at 9:15 at Cooley House, Phillips Academy, with babysitting being provided at Christ Church, and on Thursday, Nov. 18, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Kimball, 4 Central Lane.

There will also be a special meeting held on Thursday morning, Nov. 18, at 10 at the Andover landfill site. Mr. Perron, superintendent of Andover's current landfill, will conduct a tour of the site.

Those wishing the tour will meet at the site.

Conservation Discussion For AVIS

The Andover Village Improvement Society is issuing a special invitation to all townspeople to come to the Christian Formation Center on River Road to hear the speech of Robert Lemire, chairman of the Lincoln Conservation Commission.

AVIS promises an interesting program; using actual tax rate, land costs and school costs, Mr. Lemire will talk about the town's open land needs and will show why it is economically as well as ecologically wise for Andover to purchase conservation land.

The speech will begin at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 9, at the Christian Formation Center, River Road.

Coffee House Subject Is Red China

"Inside Red China Today" will be the topic of discussion at the People's Choice Coffee House this Friday evening, Nov. 5 at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Ethan R. Signer, associate professor of biology at M.I.T. will be the guest speaker. He, and Dr. Arthur W. Gallston of Yale visited Red China last spring when they were the first American scientists to visit China since the Communist take-over 22 years ago. Their 14-day visit to China followed a 17-day sojourn in North Vietnam. During this trip they had two hour interviews with North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong in Hanoi and with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai in Peking, and spent an evening in Shanghai with ousted Cambodian Premier Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

People's Choice is a program oriented coffee house for adults to which youth are welcome. It meets at 8:30 p.m. at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover (Route 133).

Work Nights To Prepare For Fair

Mrs. Richard Lounsbury, Jr., president of the Friendly Circle of the Andover Baptist Church has announced that the Circle's November business meeting scheduled for Nov. 8 has been cancelled.

Members are asked to come instead to any or all of the work nights from Nov. 9 through 12 to make final preparations for the "Olde Tyme Harvest Fair" to be held at the church Saturday, Nov. 13 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The fair is an all church effort, but the Friendly Circle has been acting as a steering committee with Mrs. Robert Stocks and Mrs. Webster Woodworth working as co-chairmen.

According to the Rev. Earl

Robinson, pastor of the Andover Church, members of the congregation have been sharing in work and fellowship at "work nights" periodically since the first steps were taken several years ago to clear out the sub-basement of the church and prepare it for the "third level" educational facilities completed this Fall. The Nov. 13 fair will be a major effort to raise funds for the new facilities.

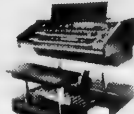

On Freshman Week Committee

Susan E. Hopley of Andover, a freshman at Colby College, Waterville, Maine, has been appointed by student government to serve on the college's freshman week committee.

The committee, consisting of administrators, faculty and students, plans and conducts the orientation program for new students.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hopley of 56 Salem St., she prepared for college at Andover High School.

Tests Focus On Junior High Dinner Menu

Attention began to focus on the special needs and problems of the junior high level, when the school committee heard the results of the Standard Achievement Tests at Andover's secondary schools.

The results seem to show that the wide distribution of elementary school talents, which generally test high average to above average, becomes homogenized into the average columns, during the junior high school years. Furthermore, too many students with above average potential stay in the average columns of the tests, at the high school level.

The Stanford is, as guidance people point out, a single set of tests, and its chief value to the system is as a baseline for the next several years' testing, and to the students, as a means of pinpointing the areas in a student's education that need special help and special resources. In addition, the national norms set seven years ago in practically a bygone education era, might similarly "skew" many communities' 1971 results low. Yet the committee and both junior high principals know they have a problem. Perhaps the problem is adolescence. Surely it is motivation. West Principal Richard Neal says the problem is that by the eighth and ninth grade, student's top priority simply is not education, but in the tenth year, he slips back into the mainstream with a realization that "every grade really counts from now on."

East Junior High Principal Dr. Richard McGrail is not so sure, says he is looking for answers. High School Principal Philip Wormwood suggests that the motivational factor, is deeper than "How can we doctor this particular course to make it more interesting?" He suggests that for a student to be motivated in education, education must "harmonize with the other systems, society, the particular environment in which or under which the student is operating." Wormwood also stated that students of today are not as amenable to the kinds of subject-by-subject categories that the Stanford tests and much of education assumes. They are more motivated toward interdisciplinary directions, and education which goes on in and out of school. Doctoring single subjects won't solve the problem.

Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert agreed that the motivational factor is a real fact of life, and that a number of students are not motivated by what we see as an educational program. "We must look through our system to match students with resources more accurately than in the past."

A brighter light, and heart-warming at that, was cast by the presence early in the meeting of the Shawsheen School representatives for the month, Teacher Grace McCabe and student Keith Clark, who warmly endorsed the individualized learning programs from the teachers' and students' standpoint. Keith, a poised fifth grader, delighted the committee and spectators with his appraisals of the playground ("It's o.k. We could use some improvements.") the IMS math program, and the new IGE team approach which sets students in overlapping age groups with a teacher team, instead of conventional grades. His comments were "Better than the old way, we're working together and alone, and when we need help the teachers' aides and teachers are there," and his answer to Dr. Katz' question: "If you could change one thing about school what would it be?" "Spelling. I don't like it. I don't know what I'd do with it, but I'd change it."

Grace McCabe, a veteran of 20 years' teaching, said she returned to Andover because of the program, but with some apprehensions that the programs would stifle her creative bent. She said she is completely enthusiastic about the new programs at Shawsheen.

"Every teacher tries to reach every person's needs, and I really feel with the math and reading programs, and the IGE program (team approach) we're really going to do it."

In response to Dr. Griggs' questioning, she said she felt students were more interested in going to school now than 20 years ago, when the program was highly structured, depending on rote and repetitive drill, meeting certain standards effectively. "Now we're working harder, it's more enriching, and we're going beyond those standards."

"We couldn't be going it," Mrs. McCabe added, "without the aides and volunteers we have. They're working as hard as we are. They're marvelous."

The school committee and administration, looking at the elementary and secondary Stanford Achievement Tests as a rough guide, have to figure out how to keep the enthusiasm and motivation of elementary school students from averaging off into apathy in the adolescent years. Not an easy problem.

Another heartwarming note was the retirement request of George Dumont, respected bus driver for many years, who expressed his pleasure for the "many happy years with the children of Andover," as he retired with his wife to California. His request for retirement as of the end of December was accepted with regret.

One more letter added a light touch, although it was a complaint. "Dear Sir," it began. "My name is Ben Lloyd. I am 12 years old and not married." The letter went on to complain that school mail had come to their home addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lloyd, and attached a sample of the mistaken address, but ended with the dark suggestion that he thought he had kept his "child bride" a secret.

Environmental Expert To Address Group

Earl Anderson of the Environmental Protection Agency will appear before the environmental quality committee of the League of Women Voters at 12:30 today, Thursday, at Evans Hall, Phillips Andover Academy.

Mr. Anderson will show a film entitled "Realities of Re-cycling" and will also discuss the federal government program for solid waste disposal.

This meeting is open to the public. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Phys. Ed. Activities At Pike

This year The Pike School has a Department of Physical Education and Athletics, which has been established under a coordinator in order to bring about a more comprehensive program.

This program emphasizes mental and social, as well as physical fitness, through the development of individual skills, team participation, physical exercises, and an appreciation for recreation and related activities. The 1971 fall (upper school, for grades 6-9) program offers interscholastic soccer for 35 boys, while close to 30 girls are participating in field hockey against other schools.

The boys not on the interscholastic teams are involved in Round Robin Tournaments in soccer and flag football during their P.E. and Intramural periods. Mrs. Regan, P.E. assistant, is conducting an intramural soccer program for girls not on the field hockey teams.

The boys' varsity soccer team, under the direction of Bill Stevens, finished the month of October with a 2-2 record. After losing the opener 0-2 to Shady Hill, the Pike team bounced back to capture a 3-1 victory from Brooks and a 7-1 win over the East Junior High. The second loss came at the "feet" of Middlesex by the score of 1-4. Although this year's team is smaller than previous teams, and the backs are inexperienced, overall the Pike unit is better balanced. Games remaining: Nov. 3 - Phillips (away), Nov. 10 - Winchester (home), and Nov. 17 - Park (away).

The Pike junior varsity soccer team presently sports a 2-1-1 record. After battling to a 0-0 tie with Shady Hill, the Pikemen, coached by Sam Morgan, defeated Brooks 4-0 and Park 7-0. Their only loss was to Middlesex by 0-3. Games remaining: Nov. 3 - Shore (away), Nov. 10 - Shore (home), and Nov. 17 - Tower (home).

The girls' varsity field hockey team won the home opener 2-1 against Shady Hill; however, after squeezing out their first win, the green and white of Miss Cindy Root was unable to "stick" in another victory - losing to Shore 0-9, Brookwood 1-3, and Pingree 0-4.

On the junior varsity level, the girls have been unable to score; while losing to Shore 0-7, tying Brookwood 0-0 and losing to Pingree 0-5. The girls teams hope to take the offensive as they look for victories against: West Jr. High - Nov. 3 (home); Park - Nov. 10 (away); and East Jr. High - Nov. 17 (away).

This Friday, Nov. 5, at 11 a.m. the mothers are invited to a field day with their daughters. Soccer or field hockey will be played according to the majority interest expressed on a questionnaire sent home. The mothers are also invited for a luncheon after the game.

On Saturday, Nov. 6, at 9 a.m., the upper school faculty and the boys have offered their fathers an opportunity to join in a combined play and work morning at Pike. Various work projects will be tackled in order to make a few improvements in the athletic facilities before everyone gets down to the "more serious" business of soccer. Cider, coffee and doughnuts will be served throughout the occasion.

Learning Disabilities
Group Meets

The regular meeting of the Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities will be held Monday evening at 8 p.m. in Ballard Vale United Church, Clark Road, corner of Hall Avenue, in Pallardvale.

Featured on the evening's program will be a film entitled "I'm Not Too Famous At It" by Dr. Sam Rabinovitch of Montreal Children's Hospital. Discussion leader will be Arthur Malenon, teacher of Learning Disabilities in the Georgetown school system.

The Merrimack Valley Association for Children with Learning Disabilities was formed several years ago by parents and professionals of this area to assist in the formulation of programs for the perceptually handicapped children. The local group is associated with state and national organizations having the same purpose. Meetings are held monthly, affording parents an opportunity to get help with problems of their children. Qualified and distinguished speakers are found who can give expert help. Parents are welcome to all meetings and membership is open to all.

A directors' meeting of the organization was recently held at the home of Martin Sanborn, president of the local organization. Directors present include Edith Sanborn, Adena Cicione, Barbara Mitton, Dr. Raymond Sparks, Arthur Malenon, Pamela Kvilekval, Ruth Stanhope, Maureen Lawton and Jean Servello.

Both these groups are open to the public.

Surveys

The library is conducting a survey to find out whether it is serving the needs of the people of Andover. We are asking our patrons as they come into the library to complete the questionnaire. The answers to your questions will help the library in its selection of material and books, and will lead to improved service. An earlier survey which was mailed to the homes of a number of townspeople has been completed. Memorial Hall Library is appreciative of the time and thought which our patrons have given to the completion of these surveys.

Children's Room

Fall programs in the Children's

Room at the library are now in full swing, with one, the PJ Party held Wednesday evenings, already completed. Littlest Listeners groups happily cavort on Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, and bi-weekly meetings of Imagine/Enigami, the poetry and film experience for children in Grade three and older, have produced some very sophisticated and thoughtful examples of young people's poetry.

This afternoon, the Story Caravan will begin its tour of seven weeks of activities on Thursday afternoons from 3:30-4:30. Film and story-hour programs will alternate, beginning with Stories slightly Spooky this afternoon. Films to be shown during the program include "Rabbit Hill," "The Hound that Thought He Was A Raccoon," "A Child's Christmas in Wales," and a special film festival of Laurel and Hardy favorites: "Beau Hunks," "Music Box," and "Swiss Miss." The Story Caravan is open to all children in elementary grades without registration, and a more detailed program of events is available in school and public libraries.

The long-awaited news is in! VIBOR, The Very Important Board of Review, is proud to announce that Miss Carol Stephen, a sixth grader at West School, has won the contest held to choose a Vibor mascot. Carol's entry was a pencil sketch of a "Beloved Vibor" that must be seen to be believed! The mascot is on display on the Children's Room bulletin board. Eleven years old, Carol has chosen a Twister game as her prize.

Pet Snake Is Named At Jr. High

Shawn Carney of Room 1 at the Andover West Junior High School presented his class with a pet garter snake. The students, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Mary Donahue, had a contest to name the snake.

Editorial Comment

Any Plans?

As yet there have been no soundings from the school department relative to any building needs in the immediate future, but one might suspect there is food for thought in the dearth of any concrete announcements.

This past year proved to be one of disaster for new school construction in Andover.

Voters, as everyone knows, soundly rejected the idea of an addition to the Doherty elementary school.

Thought behind it seemed to be a desire for a reprieve from school construction, with an accompanying allowance of time to analyze the basic needs.

Since town meeting time, evidence has shown that the purchase of time by the townspeople may have proven most beneficial.

Space needs indicate attention at the secondary level, rather than at the elementary plateau. Current economic trends and other factors further point out that it would be better to plan for the known growth factor, rather than the contemplated.

A request for planning funds for secondary school expansion was more or less drowned in the sea of anti-construction feeling prevalent at the March town meeting.

We would hope that school officials would soon be making some semblance of their 1972 planning soon.

Current studies show that possibly the elementary population can be accommodated within the present structures available.

If there is to be need for consideration of secondary expansion, we think the time is ripe for the divulging of any moves planned for 1972.

Also, to be considered is office space for the school administration. Currently updating of the Stowe school has provided some temporary relief. Possibly the continued use of this building, with further remodeling will answer this need for years to come.

The Stowe school appears structurally sound. Modernization to meet the office needs could more than likely be accomplished without too much of a financial burden and could solve this particular need.

While on the subject of school construction, we would hope that any such consideration would take into account the good old Yankee frugality of the residents of Deerfield, N. H.

Faced with the need of additional classroom space, and rejecting the plans for same over a year ago, the voters there finally decided on a plan devised by some architects and manufacturers from Derry, N. H. to solve their problems.

Additional classrooms, offices, etc., were opened this September and displayed at an open house this past Sunday, for all to see what could be accomplished at a cost of $14 per square foot.

The new construction is not an architectural gem, but it meets all safety requirements, state standards and most of all, the educational needs of the town.

To meet the cost, the voters of the community approved a one-year increase in their tax rate to pay for the under-$150,000 cost involved, thus saving bond payments.

Praiseworthy

There are those who observe from afar and comment upon Andover's conduct of municipal affairs.

But, in the final analysis, we consider this town to be exemplary in the operation of town business.

True, town meetings, at times have become somewhat boisterous and, at times not quite up to Emily Post as far as manners are concerned.

But such is liable to happen in the heat of battle, and after the storm, there is the calm which keeps Andover on proper course.

Town meeting, for as long as we have it with us, gives the municipality its direction and sets for the taxpayers of the community their annual financial obligations.

Meeting that obligation is often difficult, particularly under current economic conditions.

Praiseworthy, then, is the performance of Andover's taxpayers who met the deadline on Monday with their annual tax contributions.

Over 98 per cent of the town's commitment was met and the tax collector proudly reports, "no complaints."

To those who would be critical of Andover's operations, not having first hand knowledge of the interest displayed by inhabitants, getting up $8 million over the past weekend indicates we know what we are doing.

Homecoming

Andover High school will have a Homecoming observance this weekend.

The idea was conceived and carried out by some of the young people, a nucleus of this year's senior class.

The weekend will be complete with its selection of a queen, a Saturday afternoon football contest, a dance and other events.

Idea behind the observance, of course, is to retain the old school ties and renew acquaintances.

Last year's graduates have been invited to the event to be joined with other members of Andover and Pynchard alumni for the festivities.

The event coincides with the annual Pynchard-Andover Alumni Association dinner-dance to be held Saturday night.

The overall observance of a homecoming weekend is good, keeping loyal Andoverites together.

Most significant, however, is the fact that the idea was introduced by some young people who backed their thoughts with the energy which should produce success.

Heartiest congratulations to the exuberant, energetic youths.

Off The Top

Of The Desk

It will be a little unusual this year on the local sports scene not to have the competition for the mythical Little Three champion.

Usually tremendous interest is aroused in games involving Andover, North Andover and Methuen.

This year, North Andover will not meet Andover in the traditional Thanksgiving day contest. Methuen, however, remains a common opponent.

The new Thanksgiving day opponent for the Golden Warriors is Central Catholic.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held yesterday for the new convocation center and physical education facility at Merrimack college.

The new $1.9 million building will bring a much needed and desirable facility to the Greater Lawrence area.

Particularly notable will be the inclusion of hockey facilities in the new complex. The sport, as most everyone knows, is tremendously popular and is increasing all the time, what with the many youth league in the area.

Merrimack has put forth excellent hockey performances these past few years and competition on home ice a year from now should only enhance their ratings.

How much does volunteer work mean to an institution such as Bon Secours hospital?

Figures released in their recent weekly publication indicate the valuable contribution given by the many persons who donate their time and efforts.

From October, 1970 through September, 1971, a total of 34,651 volunteer hours means in the vicinity of $69,302.

One of the most colorful presentations made on television in recent times was the grand opening of Disney World in Florida last week.

Done in mammoth, grandiose production, the presentation was most pleasing and acceptable.

The expression concerning ducks to water, was certainly evident Tuesday morning on Andover street in North Andover.

Three large white ducks were seen frolicking in the falling rain. The absence of rain lately was probably the cause for particular glee for the fine feathered friends, but they should be aware that passing motorists were not quite as pleased.

The ducks waddled aimlessly about fluttering wings and just enjoying the precipitation almost un-mindful of their surroundings, which was a rather busy thoroughfare at the particular time of day.

Ever wonder how much money was squandered by youth?

The latest returns on old comic books are in, and one young man is financing his way through college with sales of old "Captain Marvel," and other such comic memorabilia.

And, to think of the funds which could have been realized had one saved all those gems of years gone by.

Ecologists might be mindful that concern for pollution is nothing new in this country as witness the following law posted in the Jamestown colony in 1612:

"... There shall be no man or woman dare to wash any unclean linen, wash clothes or throw out the water or suds of foul clothes in the open streets within the fort or within forty feet of the same; nor rinse and make cleane any kettle, pot or pan or suchlike vessel within twenty feete of the old well or new pump; nor shall any-one aforesaid within less than a quarter of a mile from the fort dare to do the necessities of nature, since by these unmanly, slothful and loathsome immodesties, the whole fort may be choked and poisoned with ill air and so corrupt (as in all reason cannot but much infect the same) and this they take notice of, and avoid, upon pain of whipping and further punishment as shall be thought meete, by the censure of a marital court." This pollution law was posted by the Jamestown Colony in 1612.

What Our Readers Say

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN: An interesting viewpoint has been expressed by Selectman Greenberg. His opinion is that the Office of Selectmen has little to do other than being, in effect, water commissioners.

However, at the recent town meeting the Selectmen failed to present and explain the Article that asked for an additional $150,000 for use in the water filtration facility building at Haggetts Pond. Considering the work load with which the town manager is purported to be burdened, it is a puzzle why the Selectmen defaulted even as one of them proclaims his frustration at so little to do.

Being water commissioners and not otherwise employed in their office it would seem that the Selectmen, or at least one of them, would be expert in water works operation and management; and that one of them would have spelled out the reasons why additional sums of money are needed rather than let the town manager carry the ball in an area not his responsibility with respect to ways and means and even as he complains about the amount of work the job he sought entails.

And of equal importance also is that for the first time town meeting was told, by inference, that all of the recent Articles that have to do with the building of a filtration plant include also money to build an entirely new pumping station. If this assumption is correct, then town meeting has

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

The League of Women Voters of Andover agrees that zoning bylaws should be written by the Planning Board, for part of the Board's duties, as defined in the Town Bylaws, is to consider, develop, and maintain a comprehensive town plan which include recommendations for zoning.

The League has no reason to doubt that the pressures of private developers to build in Andover will increase; therefore, we believe it is most important that the Planning Board seriously consider the drafting of bylaws that will enhance the use of our land and will provide for the common good.

The future distribution and characteristics of the town's population should be a consideration in the framing of any zoning bylaw. The League urges the Planning Board to consider the possibility of zoning bylaws that would:

1. provide for multiple family construction with ownership. This could augment our supply of moderate income homes.

2. require a builder to construct according to his plans as submitted to the Planning Board. Any altered plans must be petitioned before the Board.

3. review our present apartment bylaw examining the desirability of reducing the density of housing per acre and increasing the amount of land to be retained as open space.

The Town, as evidenced at the Special Town Meeting, looks to the Planning Board for continued examination of our community's plans and guidance in our future direction.

Leaders

The Andover Council of Camp Fire Girls is seeking women willing to be leaders, guardians and supervisors to girls ranging in age from seven to 14.

The Camp Fire Girls have sufficient enrollees but not enough leaders.

Groups are maintained from six to eight girls each.

Leaders have the challenge of making responsible young ladies from the group, learning early in life the principles and ideals of mature young adults.

High school girls, mothers and young ladies of the community interested in assisting are asked to contact Mrs. William King, 475-3914, for further information.

Art Display At West Jr. High

Recently the creative work of ninth grade science students of Andover West Junior High School was displayed in the School of Education, Boston University. The work was entitled "Aesthetics in Science."

In the process of becoming proficient in the use of metric measurements, the students communicate and share their experiences through creating various art forms. It is through experience that man involves all his being, and through this process he becomes able to understand other human beings and commune with them meaningfully.

ZPG Speaker At Brooks

The public is invited on Monday evening to hear and question Miss

Judith Senderowicz, executive director of the New York Chapter of Zero Population Growth in the Brooks School auditorium, North Andover.

The New York chapter now has 1000 members out of a total national membership of 38,000 people. ZPG people who consider themselves "the only activist population control movement" was founded by Richard Bowers in late 1969 and the organization has grown particularly fast on the west coast.

On Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m., Miss Senderowicz will discuss what can be done to promote a stable population growth and what her organization is doing for the cause that they feel is essential to the welfare of the world.

The Suez canal first was formally opened Nov. 17, 1869.

Mrs. Alfred A. Finocchiaro

Finocchiaro - Kokkales

Miss Helen Kokkales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kokkales, 416 Main St., Haverhill, and Alfred A. Finocchiaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Santo Finocchiaro, 20 Elmwood St., North Andover, were married Sept. 26 in Holy Apostles Church, by Rev. Timothy Andrews, who officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Kokkales, selected a silk organza floor length gown, trimmed with Alencon lace. The bodice was designed with high ruffled neck, long bishop sleeves, Empire waist A-line skirt with detachable chapel train and her silk illusion veil fell from a Camelot cap of Alencon lace trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses.

Miss Stavroula Demestikas was maid of honor. She was dressed in an olive green chiffon gown.

The bridesmaids were Miss Janet Kolodziej and Miss Bessie Lampros dressed in violet chiffon gowns. Miss Elaine Bilmazes and Miss Jean Robichaud were junior bridesmaids and wore violet chiffon gowns. All attendants carried Colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Alfred Riko was best man. Ushering guests were Thomas Finocchiaro and Brian Fauchman. Master Anthony Riko was ring bearer and Master Alfred Riko, Jr., was crown bearer.

Miss Irene Demestikus attended the guest book.

A reception followed at the Yankee Doodle, Lawrence.

For travel on her wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a navy blue knit ensemble with matching accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Haverhill High School and Chandler School for Women, Boston.

The bridegroom is a graduate of North Andover High School and Wentworth Institute, Boston. He served with the U.S. Army in Vietnam.

They are now residing in their new home in South Lawrence.

The bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Stavroula Demestikas and Miss Janet Kolodziej and a green-back shower given by Miss Connie Finocchiaro.

Junior Gardeners To Meet

The Andover Junior Garden Club will hold its second fall meeting at the Bay State Bank, 8 Main St., Saturday, Nov. 6, from 10 to 11 a.m.

This is the eighteenth year Andover has had a junior garden club, and registration is still open to all children in grades 3 and higher. The dues are $1 per year.

Learning to construct a garden inside a glass jar or bowl will be the theme for this meeting. All children are asked to bring a suitable glass container.

Members should also bring a plastic or clay pot to plant a bulb which they can enjoy indoors all winter.

Former Townsman
Publisher Dies Suddenly

Elmer J. Grover, 62, publisher for several years of the Andover TOWNSMAN, died suddenly Wednesday, Oct. 27, at St. Francis Hospital, Hartford, Conn.

At the time of his death he was personnel manager of the Connecticut Printing Co., Inc., Bloomfield, Conn.

A scholar in Andover public and private schools, Mr. Grover took over ownership of the Townsman in 1936. During his years as publisher and editor, he introduced the weekly publication in a magazine format, featuring a full page glossy picture on the cover.

Returning to its tabloid size prior to his selling the publication, the newspaper was a keen observer of the local political scene.

He also guided the publication during the difficult years of World War II, the newspaper being a touch of home for many servicemen serving on foreign soil.

He began his newspaper career with the old Lawrence Telegram, before assuming ownership of the TOWNSMAN. Included in the business venture during his tenure was the acquisition of the Lawrence bindery, which was included in the operations.

He sold the weekly publication to Josiah Lilly of the Lilly Pharmaceutical company in 1948.

As a student in Andover public schools, he attained the highest scholastic average of any person at the time.

He continued his scholastic activity at Phillips Academy where he graduated in 1927, cum laude.

He received his degree cum laude from Harvard University in 1931 where he was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society.

He served during the late 1930's as a member of the Andover school committee including service as secretary of the board during his tenure.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gladys Morrison of Manchester, Conn.; two sons, G. Robert Grover of Ho-Ho-Kus, N.J. and Stephen J. Grover, a sophomore at the University of Seattle, Seattle, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Bernard J. Lyons, Jr., of Austin, Texas, and Mrs. Peter Austin of Lancaster, Penn.; his mother, Mrs. Margaret (Concannon) Grover of Andover; a sister, Miss Ida Grover, retired Latin teacher at Andover High school and a brother, Melvin G. Grover, Salisbury, Conn.

A funeral Mass was offered Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Cathedral of St. Joseph, Hartford, Conn. Burial was in West Parish cemetery.

Community
Day To Be Observed

Church Women United of Andover will join together to observe World Community Day on Friday, Nov. 5 at the South Church at 1 p.m.

Women from more than 5,000 communities throughout the nation will be celebrating this service.

The emphasis for 1971 will be on the deterioration of the environment which has become one of the most important problems facing mankind today.

The theme for this united service which has been sponsored by Church Women United since 1942 will be "Build a New Earth."

Rev. Egbert W. A. Jenkinson, interim minister at the Free Church will be the guest speaker. All women of the community are invited to attend. Baby-sitting will be available.

Rev. Styzens
To Be Pulpit
Guest Sunday

Rev. Rexford Styzens, minister of the First Parish Church in Watertown will be pulpit guest at the Andover Unitarian Universalist Church this Sunday, Nov. 7.

Rev. Mr. Styzens has been minister there for more than two years. Previously, he served Unitarian Churches in Sioux City and Davenport, Iowa. He is a native of Chicago and received his graduate education for the ministry at the University of Chicago. Since coming to Watertown, Rev. Mr. Styzens has taken part in Vietnam moratorium activities, the establishment of a Watertown chapter of FISH and the formation of Watertown Citizens for participation politics.

The title of his sermon for the 10:30 a.m. service in Andover is "A World Weary of Truth."

Rev. Richard M. Woodman, minister of the Andover church will be pulpit guest in Mr. Styzens' Watertown Church.

To Attend Meeting

Peter T. Stapleton, assistant to the principal at Abbot Academy, is among the secondary school educators throughout the greater Boston area who plan to attend a special event at Pine Manor Junior College in Chestnut Hill, on Monday, Nov. 8, which will introduce a unique educational venture in the presentation of a Humanities Course through a series of contemporary films.

About This Question:

"The revised Homeowner policy does not cover motorized vehicles under 'unscheduled personal property,' except those used to service the premises. Would a riding lawnmower be covered, while a motorized golf cart, a snowmobile or a motor scooter would not be covered?"

Free DeliveryBUSINESS PROFILES*Dalrymple Oil Co. Introduces Frigidaire Microwave Oven

The revolutionary new Frigidaire Microwave Oven is now on display at your local Frigidaire dealer, Dalrymple Oil Company, 244 Broadway in Lawrence. Tony Donahue, above, invites you to come in any time for a free demonstration of this exciting innovation in cooking.

The Frigidaire Microwave Oven offers a fast, cool, clean, easy and fun way to cook for nearly everybody. It is fast because it cooks in up to 75% less time than conventional methods. No pre-heating and no warm-up is required. It is cool, because microwaves heat only food, not oven walls or dishes. Walls, dishes, indeed your kitchen, stays cool. Since microwaves don't heat oven walls or dishes, food spatters don't bake on. Oven walls clean with a damp cloth. You can cook in glass, ceramic, plastic dishes, even paper, without scrubbing. It is as simple to operate as a TV set. Put food in, set the Timer (15 sec. to 12 min.), lock the oven door and cooking starts immediately. Half the fun is watching things happen before your eyes.

Think of the possibilities! This Frigidaire Microwave Oven is completely portable, so it can go from room to room, to vacation home, on the patio, or in mobile homes. It is the ideal answer to cooking for working wives, party givers, busy mothers, leisure lovers, swinging singles, delighted dieters and newbies. See it now at Dalrymple Oil Co., Merrimack Valley's oldest Frigidaire dealer.

Dalrymple is one of the largest suppliers of home heating oils, industrial oils and heating equipment in this area. All deliveries are made in new, well-maintained trucks operated by their own reliable, courteous drivers. All installations are designed, estimated and supervised by a registered professional engineer, and done by factory trained and licensed oil burner and refrigeration servicemen.

For a free home heating and ventilating survey, call Dalrymple Oil Company at 683-2455 or stop in at the Lawrence store and see this exciting new Frigidaire Microwave Oven at the same time. Open Tuesday and Friday evenings for your convenience.

LEGAL NOTICES

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
PROBATE COURT
Docket No. 312190

Essex, ss.

To JOSEPH L. MEDEIROS,
JUNIOR of Burlington in the County of Middlesex.

A petition has been presented to said Court by your wife, DIANE M. MEDEIROS of Andover in the County of Essex representing that you have deserted her; -- she is actually living apart from you for justifiable cause; -- and praying that the Court will, -- by its order, prohibit you from imposing any restraint on her personal liberty, and -- make such order as it deems expedient concerning her support, and the care, custody and maintenance of your minor child.

If you desire to object thereto you or your attorney should file a written appearance in said Court at Lawrence before ten o'clock in the forenoon on the eighth day of November 1971, the return day of this citation.

Witness, JOHN A. COSTELLO, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this eighth day of October 1971.

JOHN J. COSTELLO, Register.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By the virtue of the power of sale contained in and conferred by a certain Mortgage Deed given by GUY R. CATONE, Trustee of Galaxie Realty Trust under a Declaration of Trust, dated April 4, 1967 and duly recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 1080, Page 1, of North Reading, Middlesex County, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to the Haverhill Savings Bank, now known as The Family Mutual Savings Bank, a corporation duly established by law and having its usual place of business in Haverhill, in the County of Essex, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, said mortgage being dated April 17, 1968, and recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Book No. 1105, Page No. 106, for breach of the conditions of said Mortgage Deed, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be held at public auction on the premises hereinafter described on Tuesday, November 30, 1971, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, all and singular the premises described in said Mortgage Deed: substantially as follows, namely: The land with the buildings thereon situated in Andover, Essex County, being Lot #10 shown on a "Plan of Land in Andover, Mass., surveyed for CLARENCE E. WEDGE, and dated December 16, 1960, said plan prepared and drawn by Robert E. Anderson, Civil Engineer and Surveyor" and recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds, Plan 4260 and more particularly bounded and described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the South side of Harold Parker Road at the Northwest corner of land of CLARENCE WEDGE, being Lot #11 shown on said plan, the line boundary runs.

SOUTH 14° 23' 30" East 875.08 feet by land of WEDGE to land of the COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS; thence the line turns and runs.

SOUTH 61° 57' 00" West 124.05 feet by land of the COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS to a point; thence the line turns and runs.

NORTH 14° 23' 30" West 792.94 feet, more or less, by land of WEDGE, being Lot #9 as shown on said plan to a point on Harold Parker Road; thence the line turns and runs.

NORTH 37° 28' 00" East 145.19 feet, more or less, by the South side of Harold Parker Road to a point of curvature; thence the line runs 34.81 feet, more or less, along a curve with the radius of 300 feet still by the South side of Harold Parker Road to the point of beginning.

Containing 2.747 acres more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to GUY R. CATONE, Trustee of Galaxie Realty Trust, by deed of GORDON L. GOLDSTEIN and MARCELINE C. GOLDSTEIN, dated April 11, 1967 and recorded with Essex North District Registry of Deeds in Book 1080, Page 1.

Said premises will be sold and conveyed subject to all unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments which take precedence over said mortgage, if any; One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars of the purchase price must be paid in a certified check and the balance to be paid in or within ten (10) days of the sale and other terms will be made known at time and place of sale.

NEW MACHINE. The town's new leaf-loader has been in operation, patrolling many of the streets picking up the neatly piled stacks by the side of the road. Attempts to provide a definite schedule for leaf pickup has been difficult due to weather conditions and equipment breakdowns. But, public works officials promise that if the leaves are raked to the side of the road, they will be picked up and taken to the former Essex Sand and Gravel pit off Woburn street to be mulched.

Group Makes Study Of Shawsheen

Under the supervision of Arthur Johnson of Andover, members of the newly formed Shawsheen River Watershed Association have begun preliminary water quality studies of the entire river from its headwaters in Tophet Swamp, Lexington to the Merrimack River in Lawrence. The preliminary water quality report is based on data collected from May to September, 1971.

Acid-alkaline (pH) studies indicate naturally acidic waters in the upper reaches but becomes closer to neutral in Pillerica and downstream to the Merrimack River. This pH range is not harmful to aquatic life in eastern U.S. streams.

Dissolved oxygen levels are adequate to saturated except for the Ballardvale "flats," Andover, the intersection of Strongwater Brook, Tewksbury, and Tophet Swamp, Lexington. The low dissolved oxygen levels at these stations would only support "trash" fish.

The major pollution problem in the Shawsheen River is due to excessive fertilizing by nitrates and phosphates, commonly caused by sewage treatment plant effluents, and run off from lawns and from agricultural land. Streamers of brown and green algae clinging to the bottom rocks are visible evidence of this problem. Also, large amounts of submerged and emergent aquatic plants are prevalent in many areas resulting from over fertilization. Masses of floating duckweed may also be enhanced by this nutrient condition. This fertilization, however, has not yet reached the point where the oxygen levels are lowered sufficiently to affect bottom life.

Except for the headwaters in Tophet Swamp, Lexington, and downstream from Riverina Road in Shawsheen Village, Andover, the S.R.W.A.'s studies have found adequate kinds and numbers of aquatic organisms to indicate a fair to good water quality in this respect.

With respect to the general appearance of the water, the dark tea color so prevalent in Eastern Massachusetts streams is a natural phenomenon as a result of leaching from decaying vegetation as the water flows through swampy areas.

The association plans a continuation of these initial efforts in the near future.
